I picked these
For you
From your garden

The truth
Is ugly.

A photograph of a spider web in a forest setting. The web is a dense, intricate spiral structure, appearing dark against the background. It is draped over a mossy log or branch. The surrounding environment is filled with green leaves, some of which are bright and vibrant, while others are yellow and orange, suggesting an autumn setting. The lighting is natural, creating a mix of bright highlights and deep shadows. The overall mood is quiet and mysterious.

Lazy Eyed Owl
Is he looking at me?

In your garden
These look terrible
Yet edible on my plate

A close-up photograph of a dense field of pink flowers, likely chrysanthemums, with a butterfly perched on one of them. The text is overlaid on the upper left portion of the image.

Butterflies are beautiful
I wish I could eat them all
Then maybe
I could be beautiful too

Time passes
And we remember
No one

John

Young,
I am no longer.
But the night still is.

These flowers
Are not dead
Yet.
